JSfirm.com Creates Searchable Airmen Database

Roanoke, Texas (July 21, 2025) - JSfirm.com, the world's largest resource for aviation jobs, is excited to announce their newest feature, a searchable airmen database.

This new feature allows companies to search and filter certificated aviation professionals by category (pilot, dispatcher, maintenance, UAV/UAS), location, rating/type (when applicable), and last name - directly on JSfirm.

Abbey Hutter, Executive Director of JSfirm.com, said, "This new programming gives our customers a unique and powerful tool to find aviation professionals. We're always striving to develop new ways to provide aviation companies with more effective hiring resources."

The airmen database is a great addition to JSfirm.com's existing job board and resume search tools, creating a more comprehensive and proactive solution for hiring companies. Whether companies are looking to fill immediate openings, build a long-term pipeline or increase their marketing exposure - this new feature allows companies to source the most relevant professionals for their business.

For more information on gaining access to the searchable airmen database, contact the team at 724.547.6203 or email jobs@jsfirm.com.
